

INDIAN .476 POLICE MUSKET

The Indian Government provided these cartridges to their police forces to be used in smooth-bored Martini-Henry weapons for foraging and possibly riot control purposes. It is believed they were made up until 1929.

Mk. I Ball which is a standard Mk.III case crimped over a single round lead ball. These will be found with both iron and brass bases.