

SNUFF GRENADE

I don't know much about this grenade except that it is filled with an irritant powder and is possibly used as a training grenade. The body certainly looks as though it is designed to give no fragmentation.

The fuzing system appears to be a friction ignited match composition mated to a piece of safety fuze and a small detonator or gunpowder bursting charge.

Any information that you might have concerning this grenade would be much appreciated