

.44 REMINGTON ARMY 1875

Developed by Remington for use in their Army and New Line revolvers this cartridge was in service until about 1895. This cartridge was never as popular as the .45 or .44 Colt probably because the colts cartridges could be used in the Remington firearms with no problems. Very few commercial versions of this cartridge were made.

