

.22 HORNET SURVIVAL

This cartridge is a sporting round quite common throughout the shooting world that has been applied to a survival situation for United States aircrews. It appears in two types the spitzer and the round nosed both being full metal jacketed. Even though the projectiles are jacketed the packets carry a strong message that the rounds are not to be used in a combat role.

