

.50"-70 LINE THROWER CARTRIDGE

This cartridge was used in a modified Martini Henry rifle for the purpose of projecting a line. I believe the cartridge to be based on the American .45-70. The headstamp would suggest that they were made by Kynoch. The mouth of the case is roll crimped with a waxed cardboard seal. Peter Labbett mentions this cartridge in his book on British military cartridges and suggests that it was used during WWI.
